

Thames Web

London

This speculative proposal would be a showcase for British engineering, using a proven technology that is new to London.

The Thames is the raison d'être of London and is still an under appreciated asset. The cable car route creates new pedestrian links between riverfront attractions. The Web does not intrude offensively into London's skyline and provides a fun new tourist ride.

Current Status: Speculative proposal

