

Project Architect

Metropolitan Workshop is an award winning design lead practice. Stimulating to work for and engaging to work with. We are seeking an architect to join both our Dublin and London Studios to work with an experienced team on a range of exciting public and private housing and urban design projects.

We have a studio culture – in London and Dublin – that is open minded; we listen to better understand, we share our knowledge collegially, we cherish and value genuine collaboration. The work we do is underpinned by a rigorous approach and coherent dialogue, to create something that is thoughtful, creative, engaging and particular. Our aim is to engage creatively with end users and the context, to create tailored and enduring places.

As Project Architects, individuals will be expected to have the following attributes:

- 5+ years post qualification experience (RIAI / ARB register or equivalent)
- Excellent design and technical skills
- Work collaboratively with technical consultants, project managers, engineers and other stakeholders
- Experience with relevant national planning regulations and Building Control is an advantage
- Experience with Employer's Representative on Public Works Contracts is an advantage
- Be capable of taking responsibility for completing their own designated projects or elements of projects.
- Be capable of motivating and managing a team of up to 5 people.
- Experience in housing is required
- Experience with Revit is required
- Experience with MicroStation /Photoshop /InDesign preferred
- Excellent communication skills (with fluent spoken and written English)

Salary is dependent on experience.

Metropolitan Workshop is an equal opportunities employer.
